

“Somewhere Over There.”

The following letter was received by Mrs. W F Joines from her brother, Pvt. Alvin C Edwards, Somewhere in France:

Dear Sister, A few lines to let you know that I am well and getting along fine, hope you all are the same. You must not worry about me and take everything for the better, it is not any worse on me than lots of others. Well I think the war news over there is about the same as it is over here. I see in the papers that Col. Roosevelt's son is back to America. Well I will close and not write much and maybe it will get there sooner. Write me soon and all the news.

Your loving brother, Alvin.
